NOT POETRY. I gave her a rose and gave her a ring, and I asked her to marry me then; but she sent them all back, insensible thing, and said she'd no notion of men. I told her I'd oceans of money and goods, tried to frighten her with a growl, but she answered that she wasn't brought up in the woods to be scared by the screech of an owl. I called her a beggar, and everything bad; I slighted her features and form; till at length I succeeded in getting her mad, and she raged like the sea in in a storm. And then in a moment I turned and smiled, and called her my angel and all; she fell in my arms like a wearisome child, and exclaimed, 'We will marry this
